

Khaana Suppliers

At Khaana, we know your health is a top priority, so we've focused on sourcing our meats and produce from only the highest quality suppliers. All of our proteins come from farms near Lafayette, Indiana where they are raised and treated organically and humanely. Similarly, our produce is from nearby farms which are organic and family owned. Our mission is to support these farms as well as provide you with healthy meals. To prove our point, we've made this list public to all of our customers so they can see where their food is coming from. We are always looking to add more suppliers, so check back soon to see if this list has been updated!
